Selectmen's Meeting

SCALLOP SEASON TO OPEN

Selectmen conferred with Shellfish Constable Alfred Pauline and will open the Mattapoisett scallop season October 1st to match the Marion and Fairhaven opening dates. Mr. Pauline told Selectmen that last year's bumper crop is not seen this year. He said scallops are scarce in Mattapoisett. A one bushel family limit was set. Town bags are available for scallopers at a price of $1. per bag. A 7 bag limit was set for commercial taking.

Mr. Pauline requested the closing of the shining tide quahog bed for the purpose of replanting. Selectmen voted a September 30th closing.

TIGHT BUDGETS A MUST

Selectmen, meeting with the Finance Committee, found the high price of fuel a major cause of concern to all town departments. They will advise all town department heads that no money is available for these increased costs and that it will be necessary to find some other item to reduce to obtain money for the extra cost of gasoline and fuel oil.

Ralph Eustis, Finance Committee member, said he thought there are a number

The program is designed to provide teachers with the opportunity to communicate their hopes, expectations, and learning philosophy to all of their students' parents. In this way, we hope to be more accountable and to provide the parents with a better basis for communicating with their own children.

It is our opinion that a student's educational success is critically tied to their parents' participation in their educational program. ## Mattapoisett Seniors

ALL SENIORS INVITED

All senior citizens in the area are invited to two forthcoming meetings of the Mattapoisett Seniors' Club in St. Anthony's Church Hall.

The first open meeting will be tomorrow, Thursday, September 27th, at 1 p.m. Following the transaction of business, at which Joseph C. Perry, president, will preside, Mrs. Rubye Finger, planner/coordinator for Coastline Elderly Services, Inc. of New Bedford, will be guest speaker. She will present an overview of programs to benefit the elderly which are sponsored by Coastline Services and other private and public agencies in the area.

Members of the Board of Selectmen and its executive secretary and the Rev. Gabriel Healy, pastor of St. Anthony's Church, and the Rev. Donald H. Finley, pastor of the Mattapoisett Congregational Church, have been invited to attend.

The second open meeting will be held October 4 at 1 p.m. in the church hall. This session will be featured by a talk to be given by a Federal Housing Authority representative regarding aid available to senior citizens in conjunction with sewer hookups and major home repairs. This

Christmas Sleigh Ride

On December 16, a huge logging sled will carry a large chorus of Christmas Carolers around Rochester to serenade the community. Stops will be made at select homes, such as homes of shut-ins, and the sleigh will end up at the Woman's Club where refreshments and more caroling will be enjoyed.

Mr. John Girouard will supply the sleigh, which will be fitted with rubber wheels, knowing that even if we should be lucky enough to have snow, our efficient Highway Department would have the roads cleared in no time. The sleigh will begin at the center of town, where a "Town Christmas Tree" will be lighted, and carols sung by all present, led by the choir. The choir, aboard the sleigh, will then travel an announced route singing, playing carols on instruments, and spreading cheer, before it returns to the Club for socializing. Sleighbells on the horses

He spent six years away from his schooling to gain work experience in New York City as a bookkeeper, in Boston with the Boys' Club, and in Israel in a kibbutz.

Since graduation, he has worked in his present field as chief therapist at Waldo General Hospital (Maine) and as senior

There, she studied dance, dance education, music, and the prevention of injuries - a class given for dancers by an orthopedic surgeon. The body, its muscles, movements, and proper use, caused Ms. Browne to retrace her steps to Nebraska to study physical therapy. A recent graduate of the University of Nebraska Medical Center at Omaha, she can boast of being one of only fifteen selected for her class from the entire state.

Marilyn, who now lives in Onset, enjoys the variety of patients one sees in a small hospital. She admits, however, that some day she would like to see the dance used as a form of therapy for some cases.

"We are encouraging seniors to participate because the Century III competition is a fine way for youngsters to become more involved with the community and social issues."

According to Mr. Hagen, the Century III Leaders is a national scholarship program open to high school seniors which emphasizes the future concerns of America. meet the financial pressures caused by inflation, the energy shortage and increasing demands on the Museum's services. The Institute is the first Federal agency authorized to provide such general operating support. Now in its second year, it is located within the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The Institute provides grant funds to a wide range of Museums. According to Mrs. Lee Kimche, the Director of the Institute, "General Operating Support grants are the most valuable types of grants a museum can receive since they are applied towards the basic services that museums provide -- education, conservation, security, exhibitions and outreach programs -- while allowing them to establish their own priorities."

In the first year of the Institute's operation, the Whaling Museum received a grant for the specific purpose of helping to establish the newly created office of assistant director of administration and development.

THINK ABOUT IT! With gasoline exceeding $1. per gallon, local residents will be more inclined to shop locally. If you are interested in opening a small shop on an equity basis, why not consider a Village Bazaar concept ... that is, several shops under one roof. For example, four 450 sq.ft. shops, each attracting shoppers, large enough to be viable entities & small enough to be affordable. The property at 8 Church St. provides for this creative possibility. A 4000 sq.ft. block building with all utilities, available parking, within easy walking distance of 100 village homes. Extremely favorable financing available.

The 1978-79 Summer Programs were partially funded by a grant from the New Bedford Consortium, CETA. THEATER ARTS WORKSHOPS are offered FREE OF CHARGE as a public service to the community as a whole, including visitors to the area; in addition to the productions which bring critical acclaim to the PLAYERS.

THE FALL-WINTER PROGRAM will be presented as a survey course in the basics of theater and will introduce and train participants in the elements of set design, makeup and costume, acting, music, dance, stage management: props, properties, lighting design, and promotion. Specific emphasis will be placed on musical comedy production. No fees will be charged.

Special thanks to the Wareham High School Evening Program whose generous sharing of space has made this program a reality. Workshops are held on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday. Participants will be assigned to the workshops on a rotating basis so that all will have an op-

R.I. PHILHARMONIC ORCHESTRA SEASON

The Rhode Island Philharmonic Orchestra will open its season with a new conductor, a new home and a new pops series. A total of ten concerts will be offered to the public featuring some of the world's best known soloists and symphonic masterpieces.

The Orchestra will present its first performance on October 6 under the direction of George Kent. For this gala pops concert, Mr. Kent has chosen Tchaikovsky's rousing 1812 Overture, Selections from Fiddler on the Roof and Man of La Mancha. Mr. Kent is the Resident Conductor of the Philharmonic, on the music faculty at the University of Rhode Island, founder and director of the Community Chorus of Westerly and a lobster fisherman.
